Combat Bureaucracy Bracken Urges Appointment Federal Under-Secretaries As Vital Need in Wartime

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22.—(CP)—Hon. John Bracken, premier of Manitoba and newly-elected leader of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada, last night urged establishment of under-secretaries to federal ministers in the Dominion during wartime.

"It will be admitted that many of these ministers are working to the limit of their capacity, but that large part of their work beyond their capacity, the government by order-in-council has delegated, in many cases without essential democratic restrictions and controls, to a huge and growing bureaucracy.

Mr. Bracken said that when he becomes leader of the opposition in 1945 to give the government the maximum of cooperation in its war efforts. Today, he said, the government is not only not self in a far from satisfactory situation.

FORMULATE POLICY
"The result is that government appointments, who are in no democratic sense responsible to the people of this country, not only do not formulate policy, but they do not even execute it."

Suez to Singapore

By Cecil Brown

WE SAT around in the wardrobe. There must have been twelve or fifteen officers discussing the news.

"Those Japs are bloody fools," one of them said. "All these pin-pricks at widely separated points is stupid strategy. The Japs should have sent over three hundred planes over Singapore, not eleven."

"Bloody fools!" another snorted.

"Those Japs can't fly," one of the officers said. "They can't see at night and they're not well trained."

"They have rather good ships," one of the officers remarked, "but they can't shoot."

We were all pretty tired. Some of the men were talking about what might happen tomorrow. Others drifted out of the wardrobe and I went over to a table and wrote a "last letter" to my wife in case anything happened. It seemed like a kind of silly thing to do.

Our speed has been increased to twenty-five knots. Lieutenant Hulton came in the wardrobe and I asked him if we could expect anything.

"We won't have any fighter protection," he said.

"No, it would be good if we had an aircraft carrier," he said.

We are now speeding northward to the light, to engage the enemy. The idea is to get it over as quickly as possible. We expect to encounter one Japanese battleship, possibly one other battleship, three heavy cruisers, and an undetermined number of destroyers and periscope submarines. That is the task I get from the officers. The danger is that this Japanese task force has come down from Saigon in the Gulf of Thailand, and we are going to try to intercept it and sink it.

WAKE UP, COME DOWN
A fleet air-ship will be sent up in his Walrus when the action starts. The other ships will be in the air.

Hunt Narrows Down For Lost C.P.A. Airliner

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22.—(CP)—SEARCH for a Canadian Pacific airliner with 12 persons aboard which disappeared Sunday night on the last lap of a flight here from Prince George B.C. today focused on the Vedder river valley about 50 miles east of Vancouver.

Provincial police at Chilliwack, B.C. estimated that plane might be down within 10 miles of the little settlement of Vedder Crossing and around parties, including soldiers from a nearby camp, are being concentrated in this area.

There was one report that something resembling a plane had been seen on the side of Mt. Kitchikan, north of the Vedder valley, but it lacked official confirmation.

SEARCH REPORTS
Yesterday's search was without result. Decision to concentrate in the Vedder valley was made after several settlers reported hearing a plane in difficulty over that area between 4:30 and 5 p.m.

Munich Is Hit Hard in Heavy R.A.F. Attack

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(CP)—R.A.F. bombers smashed at Munich, birthplace of the Nazi party, last night, dropping a "great weight" of bombs and starting fires in their second successive night raid over the Reich.

Clouds hampered the bombers, and German night fighters rose to battle in bright moonlight above the cloud layer.

Many Canadian members of the R.A.F. took part in the raid. Two German fighters were shot down, while the British force lost 12 bombers, the air ministry said. The loss indicated a heavy attack force in the first blow at Munich, important war industry centre, since Sept. 9.

NAZI AID DAMAGE
The Berlin radio, locating the attack only as in southwest Germany, acknowledged the loss of German fighters and bombers, but declared strong defenses had forced the raiders to scatter their bombs.

In the Sept. 20 smash at Munich, the German ministry said, the city was devastated, and fires could be seen by returning pilots.

Although details of last night's 1,300-mile round trip were not immediately disclosed, it was estimated that the great locomotive engine in Munich was targeted in the Allied program to cripple rail transport to Italy.

Munich has been hit four times before in major attacks. Last night's raid was the sixth in which the important rail station was targeted.

R.A.F. Fighters Blast at Akyab
NEW DELHI, Dec. 22.—(AP)—R.A.F. fighters, braving heavy anti-aircraft fire, smashed at the Akyab air base, and damaged the air field, a gun position and a river steamer at the Japanese-held port on the Bay of Bengal, a communiqué announced today.

Other fighters shot down a Japanese bomber over the northwest Burma coast, the communiqué said.

Jap Planes Again Attack Calcutta
NEW DELHI, Dec. 22.—(CP)—Japanese planes raided Calcutta again early this morning, a joint Anglo-American communiqué announced today.

Preliminary reports, the announcement stated, indicated that only a few bombs were dropped and that they caused few casualties.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A work stoppage by 1,000 C.I.O. unionists today tied up production of the city's steel.

Yow after an 11-mile advance, Airplane No. 44 miles from the Japanese base at Akyab on the Bay of Bengal.

Japanese planes again raided Calcutta this morning for the second time in less than 36 hours, but casualties and damage were light.

As the New Guinea front, American and Australian infantry followed through in the wake of a crushing attack, a wedge driven into the main Japanese defenses.

On the western flank of the "V" shape, the Japanese were driven out of the pocket in the Buna area.

Europe: Britain's big home-based bombers attacked Germany last night, dropping a "great weight" of high explosives and incendiary bombs on Munich.

The air ministry said large fires were left raging in the city and its announcement that 12 R.A.F. bombers were shot down, while two German fighters were shot down.

It was the sixth night since the first of the German flying force of perhaps 200 planes took part in the raid.

Army Overseas Is Assured of Turkey, Extras

By ROSS MUNRO

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Dec. 22.—(CP)—Even with the lighted food restrictions, the key and plum stuff will be served as usual this Christmas in Canadian army camps and R.C.A.F. stations.

There will be extras, too, to give a real Christmas touch to Christmas Eve meals.

HERE'S MENU

Here is the army's Christmas menu, planned by catering advisers:

Breakfast: Cereal, fried egg and bacon, toast and coffee.

Dinner: Roast turkey with onion and bread dressing; fried breaded beef cutlets, boiled gravy, creamed potatoes and buttered cauliflower; plum pudding with rum sauce, rolls and fruit.

Supper: Clear turkey soup; baked ham with mustard, pickles, mince pie, bread and tea.

The air force menu will be approximately the same.

Tent and pork will be a welcome change for the soldiers and a change for the officers, who will finish a big holiday meal with a cigar, will find cheer at a premium.

Canadian Airman Bages Ninnon Sub

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE ON THE PACIFIC COAST, Dec. 22.—(CP)—Dropping of a Japanese submarine hundreds of miles from the rugged Alaskan coastline by an R.C.A.F. plane was reported by P.O. W. E. Thomas of Phoenix, has been revealed here.

A 500-pound bomb was dropped on the submarine just as it began to plunge for a crash dive to safety. The craft was too badly damaged to escape and Sgt. Robert Kinning of Pembroke, Ont., the wireless air gunner, signalled the position to the ship which tracked in for the kill. All that remained of the submarine was wreckage.

Axis Planning New Force to Defend Italy

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Hitler plans a special army to defend Italy, plus a four-point demand upon Italy involving military co-operation, according to a statement by a conference of Axis leaders at Hitler's headquarters, according to a statement by a conference of Axis leaders at Hitler's headquarters, according to a statement by a conference of Axis leaders at Hitler's headquarters.

The army would be capable of sending its bases to the Balkans if the Allied Nations attacked there, the sources said.

An earlier Berlin announcement told of the meeting, presumably at Berlin, and attended by Hitler, Count Galeazzo Ciano, the Italian foreign minister, and other German and Italian military leaders, as well as Pierre Laval, chief of the Vichy government.

Keep the Tradition

There is still time for any who have neglected the matter to send in a contribution to the Not Forgotten fund. And opportunity to do so without danger of the fund becoming larger than needed. It has grown well in recent days, but should be substantially larger in order that the 150 soldier patients in the University hospital may receive Christmas remembrances in keeping with the spirit of the season.

There is time, too, to drop something in a Salvation Army pot, and to make contributions to other funds raised to provide for Christmas cheer for those in distressed circumstances. Fortunately more Edmonton families are in good financial position now than for many years past, but should not obscure the fact that some are not. There are many sick people in the city, many who are aged and poor. These also must be remembered.

Edmonton in less favorable times has won a reputation for showing the Christmas spirit in practical ways. That fine tradition should not weaken now that the means to help are more widely distributed.

Worried About Civilians

It is said that half the 600,000 residents of Turin have fled from the city. It is to be hoped, and can be believed, that the report is true. If there has not been a similar exodus from Genoa, and a comparable evacuation of Milan, it must be because the raiders are content to stay because a forbidding order has been issued.

The Paris and Berlin radios are urging the Pope to issue an appeal to the belligerents to refrain from further hostilities. No such appeal is needed so far as the Allies are concerned, for they do not blast hospitals, civilian populations, or religious houses. That type of war they have left to the enemy, by whom it has been practiced deliberately and persistently.

The Pope needs to be reminded that Hitler as his duty to urge the claims of civilians to immunity. As to the Fuehrer's qualifications to make such a plea, he is a butcher in Poland, in Rotterdam, in France and in Greece are eloquent. If he is concerned now about the safety of Italian non-combatants, why is he not for fear that all-out bombing of Italian centres will throw that subject state into turbulence.

Italians who go to the front to die away from military concentrations, munitions centres and railway junctions have no cause to fear Allied bombs. They apparently know that the latest report is only one of a series telling of the flight from the triangle of northern cities where war plants are most numerous—or were.

The Biggest Threat

The new Russian offensive heading south-west from Voronezh is worth watching. Like any other offensive, it may break down, or may be held up. But unless it breaks down, it is a threat of difficulties, or can be stopped by the enemy, it is the starting of the greatest disaster that has befallen the Nazis on the Russian front since they came to power.

This blow is aimed at the middle of Hitler's line between the Moscow area and the Caucasus. It is a blow aimed at the line and the Black Sea. Should it roll to the Dnieper, the enemy forces from the wheat lands to the oil fields will be outflanked and threatened with entrapment. Should it get only half that far, this whole southern wing of the Nazi forces will be in peril.

Thus far Timoshenko's men have been wading ahead through the snow as fast as Waxell's men through the swamps in Burma. Sixteen miles a day is good going in either condition.

The Nazi losses have already been so heavy that if the drive stopped now it would rank as a major success for the Red army. The list of supplies captured reads like a catalogue from an arsenal. If the trucks and guns and tanks are not too badly crippled, the Germans will be in as good a position to fight as they were as great as though another fair sized convoy had got through to Murnau.

Berlin explains that the Nazi line in that sector is being shortened. It is, with implications which Dr. Goebbels forebore to mention.

Butter Rations

Butter is now rationed in Canada. The allowance of one half pound per week per person is not far short of the amount which we ordinarily consume on the average. This is within two ounces of the world's maximum average consumption, for Canadians are said to be the world's champion butter-eaters.

Coupon rationing has not been applied because the supply is insufficient. It is sufficient. There is every prospect that it will continue to be sufficient. The aim of rationing is not to curtail consumption, but to stop hoarding.

Some months ago official warnings were broadcast that butter was in short supply was just about in balance with normal demand; there would be enough to go around if everyone was content to buy only what he or she needed, and to buy as the need arose. The great majority loyally obeyed the rule and played fair with their neighbours.

A minority did not. Promptly came reports from Toronto and Montreal that butter was being brought there out of all proportion to the usual rate of purchase. And on the heels of these came reports that stores in those cities were frequently out of butter, or so nearly out that people were standing in lines hoping to get a pound from the diminishing stocks. In Toronto a week ago Saturday the store cashiers were empty, and large numbers of consumers had to go butterless over the weekend.

Grabbing, inspired by panic or by greed, had produced the inevitable results in these cities, perhaps elsewhere. Local authorities had been artificially created, and despite the sufficient supply the Dominion over.

Hence the country must now stand the expense and the bother of concentrating rationing, in order that people who play the game fairly may not be cheated by chiselers. There is nothing so common as to see a national victory in the fact that a snubious and costly restrictions have to be thus enforced to protect the military majority against a minority of trophy-grabbers.

Showered two or three nights per week with a fair share of the rationing in Turin not least latched with personal interest. Mr. Churchill's speech, which the B.B.C. obligingly repeated frequently in Italian for their particular benefit. If Goebbels is as confident as he claims to be about Italian solidarity with the Axis, he might arrange to drop a poll of Turin people on the subject.

Something new has been introduced in the New Guinea General MacArthur has got some tanks, and set them to batter Jap remaining strong points in the Buna district. Hostile Japanese batteries will get along in jungle warfare. The Allies have as yet only Japanese experience to show, because they had none of their own when the enemy was on the move in winter and spring. If tanks can clank through brush as they do through sand, the Jap fatalistic resistance is in for a hard time.

Pictures Will Show Advance Of 8th Army

LONDON, Dec. 22 (CP)—Forty thousand feet of film taken under fire is being edited and made into a picture story of the British 8th Army's drive on El Alamein to Benghazi.

Every division in the offensive that routed Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's vaunted Africa Corps was photographed thoroughly from the start of the battle.

Most of the thousands of feet of film were taken by sergeants officially classed as non-combatants, though armed with pistols.

An official commanding one of the photographic units told an exciting tale today of how the pictures were taken.

The completed film will be issued for public show about Feb. 1, he said.

"No FAKING IN FILMS" "There is absolutely no faking," he said. "Our men were up ahead of the front line. When British troops entered Tobruk they found that our cameras had hauled down the German flag and replaced it with the Union Jack."

"The officer said it was impossible to catch the most exciting scene of all—a desert tank battle. It was a change of pace," he explained.

"We tried putting one of our sergeants inside a tank. He said, 'I can't see a thing in the middle of a hot fight and the camera had to drop his camera and grab a gun. The tank was hit and the sergeant severely wounded. His camera was smashed.'"

Pioneers, Old Timers Association Reports Big Year

George H. Ryan Elected Organization's Chief At Annual Gathering

Another milestone in the life of the Northern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers' Association will be passed next week when this nationally known organization will have concluded another successful year of activities.

Stays in Harness

James A. McCool, who was elected to serve the thirteenth term as honorary secretary of the Northern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers' Association at its annual meeting.

Revenue from the city license department for the 1942 period ending Dec. 21, amounted to $74,515 compared with $72,645 for the same period last year, according to a report filed Tuesday with the city commissioners by Thomas McCool, city license inspector. The number of bicycle licenses issued during the 1942 period totaled 10,716 compared with 9,452, while dog licenses rose from 1,524 in 1941, to 4,667 this year.

In spite of a reported loss of 32 members during the year and a curtailment of several activities owing to war restrictions, executive members reported at their annual meeting at the week-end that the association is concluding another successful year, both from the standpoint of finance and activities.

In his president's report, A. J. Greville, Clover Bar, stated that regular seasonal dances for members and their friends have proven successful. Two card parties at Acacia hall proved successful and the annual banquet and round-up held at the Macdonald hotel, Dec. 3, again proved to be the crowning event of the year.

Mr. Greville reported that the activities at the annual summer fair were cancelled owing to the transfer of the facilities of the Old Timers' Log Cabin to the R.C.A.F.

He reported that in appreciation of the transaction the association received from the R.C.A.F. a picture of His Majesty the King. The annual dinner picnic was cancelled also because of transportation difficulties resulting from rubber and gasoline rationing, Mr. Greville reported.

ELECTED PRESIDENT
George H. Ryan, St. Albert, was elected president of the association for 1943 and John C. McDougall, Edmonton, was chosen first vice-president. Clyde S. Smith and Ralph V. Bellamy, both of Edmonton, were chosen second and third vice-presidents, respectively. James A. McCool, Edmonton, was re-elected honorary secretary.

Getting Around with Jack DeLong

Street car overcrowding is the topic of the hour—their morning and early evening hours in particular. We have listened to a lot of solutions advanced by fellow commuters.

The best idea, we think, was offered in a jam-packed subway car at about 7:45 Monday. A badly-crowded passenger and he could see no reason why he should not purchase or borrow a couple of dozen flat cars from the large railway companies, and hitch them behind the street cars during rush hours.

Someone suggested it might be a little airy riding a flatcar to work. Continued on Page Thirteen

Dec. 21 Shortest Day in Year as Old Sol Hurries High Honor

By JAN PARKER
Edmonton went over the weather hump at midnight Monday as the shortest day in the year slipped to an end, and Old Sol prepared for longer appearances each day. And incidentally there were just three more shopping days till Christmas.

Dec. 21 was the first official day of winter, although to many winter-weary Albertans it indicates the turning point in the season. From now until June 21—the longest day in the year—the days will be longer, which should cut the electric light bill.

PEAK OF TILT
In December, the North Pole is tilted and the sun is in the northern hemisphere for longer than the days. The peak of this tilt is reached Dec. 21, and from then on until the June solstice, the earth is tipping back toward the sun.

A solstice is the "apparent stopping or standing still of the sun," meaning the point at which the earth's axis is furthest away from the sun. If the axis were perpendicular to the plane of the earth's orbit around the sun, there would be no change of seasons.

Day and night everywhere would be of equal length and equable conditions of temperature would prevail. Because the axis is tilted, it reaches right angles to the sun's rays in March and September, and those months occur the equinoxes, when day and night are equal the world over.

FEBRUARY COMES
In December the heat received by day falls to make good the loss by night, and it is not until February that this gain and loss become equal and the thermometer ceases to show a downward tendency.

On Tuesday the sun rose at 8:42, and will set at 5:17 p.m., which are the same times of sunrise and sunset at last year.

Temperatures appear to have been higher during this period of 1941 than during the 1942 solstice. Last year, on Dec. 21, the average reading was 16 above, while on that date in 1940 it was 26 above.

Minimum readings for that day in 1941 was 31 above, while on Dec. 21, 1942, it was 23 above. The mercury registered a low of zero on the first day of winter, 1941, and one below zero on the first day of winter, 1942.

Weather forecast, Dec. 22, 1941, for the prairie provinces and Peace River district, read: "Fair today and tomorrow with no much change in temperature." There had been three inches of snow in Edmonton two days previously.

"Thus, the forecast for the Edmonton district is: 'Continued fair and mild,' and there has been light precipitation during the last week."

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
Has the farmer a legitimate complaint of conditions as they affect him at present?

THE ANSWERS
JOHN TWOREK, former farmer: The farmer finds himself in a jam-jockey today as the result of circumstances over which he had no control. Anybody would have room to complain if such a situation befell him.

ROBERT MYLES, commercial printer: The root of the present ills falls back to the days the farmers over-invested and thus found themselves burdened with debt when prices fell. It seems unfair, however, to have them suffer for the mistakes of others when their products are a vital war essential. Their burden should be eased as was the burden of manufacturers and others who suffered during the depression as the result of their own mistakes before 1929.

FREDERICK WETTER, farmer and snow shoveller: I have bags at home that require more care and scientific attention than the remaining numbers of my family are able to give them. If I had no reason for complaint I would not be here raising extra money for livelihood at the risk of losing the quality of the all-important pork at home.

WILLIAM BOWMAN, salesman: The farmer's greatest reason for complaint seems to originate from the fact that farmers in the United States are enjoying higher prices for their products. This discrepancy is naturally directed towards war necessities in the Dominion government policy with respect to agriculture.

Sentence Suspended

Jacob Frick, formerly of Edmonton, but more recently of Dawson Creek, received a 12-months suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty to city police court Monday in a charge of attempted suicide. He appeared before Magistrate Miller.

I.T.S. Book in Special Issue For Christmas

Containing a variety of photographs, stories and cartoons on many phases of training, the Christmas number magazine prepared by No. 4 Initial Training School, R.C.A.F., South Side, was being distributed this week.

LAC J. O. Black was editor for the Christmas number, while assistant editors were LAC E. E. Bishop and Ptl. Sgt. J. A. Lynes. LAC R. G. Herbert was in charge of art work.

The magazine of about 50 pages contains dozens of excellent engravings and the art work is outstanding. The stories are witty and the articles cover all branches of the school.

Editors have also devoted space to the work of the Air Cadets. No. 12 (Edmonton Squadron), commanded by Capt. W. J. MacKenzie, Lads' Auxiliary and Junior Hostess Club, No. 4 I.T.S. have been decorated with a company of the U.S. Signal Battalion billeted at the school.

Activities of the band are also dealt with, and considerable space in the magazine has been devoted to sports.

The publication is highlighted by humor, much of which is provided by several topnotch cartoonists.

Around The Town

The Edmonton Horticultural Society offices have been moved from the old police station on 98 street at the corner of 101A avenue, to the ground floor of the Labor Temple on 100 street.

Administration and other problems of liquor control boards will be discussed at a conference in Toronto Jan. 7, J. A. King, chairman of the Alberta Board, announced. Liquor Board officials here reported that sales have been heavy.

Four per cent. interest rates will be allowed on all 1942 property taxes prepaid on or before Jan. 15, it was announced Tuesday by the city assessor's office. Interest at the same rate also will be allowed on partial payments of taxes prior to that date, and such payments will be applied equally over the various instalments.

The coal situation in Alberta has been stabilized, it was intimated on Tuesday, although the demand for experienced miners has not been met fully. Mine operators reported that back orders still on hand, a situation that has existed for months. A. A. Miller, chief inspector of mines, urged that no inexperienced men will be taken from the army to work in coal mines as was done recently at Drumheller. Experienced miners are needed.

Li-Lन्द्र: Curtis B. Munson, New York and Chicago businessman who before the war spent his summers in Edmonton, is at present on a "dangerous mission," according to the Chicago Daily News. Li-Lन्द्र Munson, president of Sterling Collieries Ltd., has a son-in-law in the R.C.A.F. G. G. Gohm, brother-in-law who married the former Frances Munson last March. The story states that Li-Lन्द्र Munson flew to London in September and was attached for a time at the U.S. embassy there, but that his most recent orders have taken him on a more "dangerous mission."

A Victory Wheel campaign to boost the sale of war savings stamps and certificates will be sponsored early in the New Year by the Civic Victory committee. Last year the campaign was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Civic Victory committee is working in co-operation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a weekly program will be used to reach the children in purchasing stamps and certificates. Organization meetings will be held Monday night, and a second meeting to select various committees will be held Wednesday night.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Job Cannot Replace The Shattered Home

Now Is the Time to Join War Work Clubs; Girls Must Lower Standard of Love.

Making

Dear Miss Dix: Probably I should feel satisfied with a love that I have had, two darling little children and a nice home, but I'm not. I am bored to death with the same old routine day in and day out, with no change to do half the time.

My husband leaves early in the morning and doesn't come home until late at night, generally after I am asleep so I hardly see him. We moved to the city four years ago and I have made few acquaintances. I am a country girl, strong and healthy, and need work to keep me content. Still taking care of my children and washing and ironing my husband's shirts doesn't give me enough to do.

I feel that I would be much happier and that I would be doing something for my country if I could get a good job to care for my children and with a life of leisure. Maybe, if I wasn't always there to take care of my children, I would feel like giving her a little more of his time. Or maybe I would feel more content with a life of leisure if I found out what working at a job means. What do you think of my idea? P. B. O.

as a rule, the young men who would make fine and noble husbands do not know as much about love-making as the fickle, dashing Casanova who can reap a girl off her feet! Don't they realize that this is just as important as being a gentleman, or a good provider? The finest and kindest boy I know has asked me to marry him, but I refused because he hadn't learned to fall in love with me. With preface for his girls they wanted for the same reason my sweetheart has, with his girls refuse them. I am not being silly or emotional, but I know that I could never be happy with him.

Answer: The art of being a great lover measures up to a woman's girl's ideal is a gift that their fairy godmothers do not bestow upon many men. Hence the ones who have no more to be blamed for not making love the way they do in the movies than they are for not having a tenor voice or a Greek profile. Nor is there any way they can cultivate it and make the most of it. You tell the boys, who have lost girls they wanted for the same reason my sweetheart has, with his girls refuse them. I am not being silly or emotional, but I know that I could never be happy with him.

I am not being silly or emotional, but I know that I could never be happy with him.

Answer: The art of being a great lover measures up to a woman's girl's ideal is a gift that their fairy godmothers do not bestow upon many men. Hence the ones who have no more to be blamed for not making love the way they do in the movies than they are for not having a tenor voice or a Greek profile. Nor is there any way they can cultivate it and make the most of it. You tell the boys, who have lost girls they wanted for the same reason my sweetheart has, with his girls refuse them. I am not being silly or emotional, but I know that I could never be happy with him.

You, Too, Can Enjoy Patterns USO Wassail Bowl

Two-Piece Box Dress

By MRS. GAYNOR BODDIX

To make your Christmas party richer in sentiment, serve a Wassail bowl. The Wassail (as the toast well) is a traditional English drink drunk with friends. The toast is "Love and loyalty to you and to you Wassail bowl."

In 1900 USO clubs in this country and offshore bases there will be Wassail bowls on Christmas

Here's the recipe for the USO version of the bowl.

USO WASSAIL BOWL

One gallon cider, dash of granulated sugar, whites separated and whipped, allspice, cinnamon, creamed cloves, pinch of milk or cream.

Heat and serve hot.

For a holiday breakfast, serve this favorite of Revolutionary days.

Van Wyck Mason, author of "River Glories," contributes it to our Christmas collection.

SAUSAGE AND FRIED APPLES

Shape the sausage meat in small cakes and cook slowly in a hot frying-pan until the middle is well done. Do not cook too fast, but let the outside get too hard.

Pour off most of the fat, have ready good cooking apples which have been cored and sliced (without peeling) in a sauce (about one-third inch thick). Put these in the pan and cover your pan for a few minutes. Turn the apples carefully to avoid breaking. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cook slowly.

Well-covered until apples are almost tender.

You may cover and cook until apples are well glazed. These can be seasoned with powdered cinnamon and cloves if desired. Fried apples in centre of a hot plate and arrange sausage around edge.

Tender.

Your Baby And Mine

By MILDRED NEVER ELDER

A milk formula is a good one when it results in the baby's making an adequate weekly or monthly gain in weight; when he is satisfied to wait four hours between meals and when there is neither constipation, diarrhea nor excessive vomiting.

Most babies have to have their formulas tailored-made to their needs. Unless the doctor can be consulted constantly there may be no slight changes made in any formula he orders to bring about the proper results.

Mrs. R.S.A. says the formula she used right after the war was the baby resulted in the baby's failure to gain weight.

Then I consulted a doctor and he changed the formula to 25 ounces of milk, 10 of water and 5 tablespoons of maltose. Now she has large yellow curds in the stool and she is very constipated.

I was told to give her a pre-cooked baby cereal but I decided against that until she was over being constipated. She can't take orange juice so I give her tomato juice. How much does she need daily? I couldn't get a combination of equal parts of sugar and milk so I took plain vitaminized. I am doing very well now. I am of the combination, 12 drops daily.

Is that right? She now weighs 14½ pounds and is 2 months old. She weighed over 9 pounds at birth.

The formula is all right. It is possible, though, since the constipation is present and also undigested curds in stool that you may need to make some change in the form of the milk. You are using a well-known formula, but a change might be an improvement. Stop for a duplicate your present formula and compare it with the one that would improve the child's weight in sugar. However, ever good a formula, it must be adjusted as the baby gains in weight.

The amount of plain vitaminized should be less than the amount of your combination oil. Six drops daily ought to be enough, but better ask the doctor.

You will need to use as much tomato juice as sugar juice. Ten or three ounces twice daily could be given between meals. The addition of excess in the stool would be an aid to the constipation so I would not put that off until it was worse.

Our leaflet, "Types of Stools," suggests ways in which to deal with constipation in the bottle-fed baby.

It may be had by sending a 2-cent stamp, self-addressed envelope with your request to My Baby's
